If you want to make a difference, and live an extraordinary life, this book has some great tips for you. There are 120 tips listed, and I was able to pick out 10 or so that I could start to work on right away. Some I have done before, and just needed a reminder, and some will be new for me. The author does a good job presenting them - the number can be overwhelming, but he breaks it down and offers brief explanations after each one which makes it easy to read, and then move on. The quotes are also very good - I would like to have had the author of the quote provided just for my information, but I recognized many of them. Liked the suggestion for aim for progress, not perfection. That is a great reminder in all we do.
